WHAT'S THE WORD? DR. RANDY BOONE

Every Congressional session begins with a religious moment that is unique in the governing of modern nations. Activity pauses as the chaplain, chosen by Congress themselves comes to the platform of the House to pray with and for the Legislators. Many times the piety and skill of the chaplain determine the effectiveness of the day's prayer. The impact of the singular message of each day's prayer is less important, however, than the unchanging power of the tradition of the moment.

It all began when that first Continental Congress met to a United States of America, and it has continued through the centuries as we struggle to preserve our nation. One day the session was going badly. A lack of unity among representatives was threatening to break up the anticipated union of states.

Benjamin Franklin spoke up that day: "Mr. President, I have lived, sir, a long time. And the longer I live, the more convincing proof I see of this truth: that God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid? Except the Lord build a house, they labor in vain that build it. I therefore move that, henceforth, prayers imploring the assistance of Heaven be held in this assembly every morning."

Pray for America.
